

Mi amor

Connor Ready

Dear Cali,

Although the time we spent was short, I will never forget the memories we shared. From the moment I landed, I was entranced in your beauty. From the beauty in your nature, to the beauty in your people, I have never felt more welcomed.

My first day in Javeriana was perfect, specially the lecture on interculturality. The lecture stressed the need for inclusivity in Colombia, specially through policy, medical treatment, insurance, and humane to human intersection. I was amazed at the diversity in Javeriana. The importance of interculturality was evident through my wonderful intersection with the students at Javeriana.

The openness and dedication to inclusivity was evident through their answers to the many questions I asked. This inclusivity was further evident through their work in clinics and within the great community.

"Adiós mi amor, hasta el próximo tiempo"
